10th edition

Authors: Martin Howe QC, James St. Ville and Ashton Chantrielle
Author of Malaysia section: Hemalatha Parasa Ramulu, Partner, Skrine, Kuala Lumpur

Russell-Clarke & Howe on Industrial Designs provides in-depth commentary on the law of industrial designs. Centred on a comprehensive treatment of current and historical designs law of the United Kingdom, it also includes treatments of the designs laws of other jurisdictions which are historically linked with the UK.

The section on Malaysia, newly written for the 10th Edition, outlines Malaysian registered design law and enables it to be cross-linked to relevant case law from the UK, Australia and other jurisdictions which have adopted similar legislation.

Russell-Clarke & Howe is frequently cited in court judgments in Malaysia and other Jurisdictions, and is an essential resource for advocates and practitioners litigating and advising on this complex area of law.

The book:

- Offers analytical, high level commentary on industrial designs, whilst maintaining a practice-focused edge.
- Provides a detailed historical treatment of copyright law and industrial design law from 1709 through to the current legislative position in order to provide a complete picture of design law in operation.
- Discusses copyright protection for industrial designs.
- Covers infringement and validity disputes.
